A LOG CABIN SONG.

I know dat de weather is chilly and cole—
Be in time! Be in time!
Yet de jes'mine flower's bright as gole—
In its prime! In its prime!

Hit bloomin bright, hit bloomin light—
In its prime! In its prime!
For I plant it on a moonlight night;
See it climb! See it climb!

I brought it from de darkly swamp—
See it climb! See it climb!
I brought it from de chilly damp—
Be in time! Be in time!

I plant an name it for my beau—
Be in time! Be in time!
Hit wind aroun my cabin do'—
See it climb! See it climb!

If he should cease to love me true—
Be in time! Be in time!
Dat jes'mine hit would wither too—
In its prime! In its prime!

A TENDERFOOT.

"Speakin—of—tenderfeet," said Jim Harden, as with a critical air he packed the tobacco in the bowl of his pipe, preparatory to relighting that article—"speakin of tenderfeet reminds me of one I knowed oncet, sence which time I hev be'n a whole lot more respective in speakin of 'em.

"'Twas in the summer of 18—. I was then workin fer Ole Harvey Skerrett, who kep' store an run a ranch down at Three Forks, in th' foothills.

"Near Skerrett, 'bout two miles away, Ole Si Hendershott hed a ranch. He likewise hed 'bout th' purtiest an nicest darter thet ever wore millinery, an Si, he was proper proud of her, you bet. Moreovermore, all of us galoots 'round Three Forks was up to our back hair in love with her—plumb, tearin, wide awake mashed, as I've heard say. But it didn't do none of us no good—leastways, only one of us. That war Perry Roane, a young rancher from down th' creek 'bout ten mile. Perry, he cut us all out, 'thout half tryin, 'cause he was a big, han'some cuss an well fixed, besides havin been t' school lots when a kid. So he went in an winned—almost. That is t' say, he froze us out an kep' reg'lar comp'ny with Hetty.

"I guess 'twas all settled that they was t' be hitched some time or other, when 'bout May along come a feller from Boston with a letter to Ole Si from some relation o' his'n, an jes' camped right at Si's fer th' summer. He was one of these here artist chumps—not a real, genooine fottygrapher, but one of th' sort that carries a lot of paper an pencils an colors in little lead squirt guns, an draws red, white an blue sunsets, likewise funny lookin trees an bowlders. He talked like a book an called all th' boys 'Mister,' besides saying 'Beg parding' if he didn't hear what ye said first time.

"Sure 'nough, we guyed th' chap lots at first, but Spenceley—that wuz th' tenderfoot's name—was so doggoned nice an pleasant an took a joke so easy, we all got t' likin him tiptop. All 'xcept Perry Roane. He hated him lots soon's he seen him. 'Cause why? Jest 'cause Spenceley was under th' same roof with Hetty, an he knowed that it might turn out kind of bad fer him, 'specially as he knowed right then—which nobody else did—that Hetty wa'n't much stuck on him, anyhow, an had only promised t' marry him t' please th' ole man. Ye see Perry was a good deal of a bully, an drank considerable, an then there was an ole story 'bout his havin' skipped out from th' states, leavin a wife that died a little later. But this didn't cut no figger with Si. He had his eye on Perry's pile, an was willin t' take chances on makin Perry treat Hetty first rate, 'cause th' ole man was a toler'ble dangerous cuss himself.

"Well, th' artist feller got t' feelin sort of soft on Hetty himself, an 'most ev'ry day they'd go wanderin 'round th' country, drawin, an fishin, an so on, an in th' evenin when Perry come over t' set awhile he'd find Mister Artist there in th' settin room, cool as a cucumber an polite as polite, him not knowin that Perry had a first filin on th' calico. An Hetty, jest like any woman, 'njoyed it all immense.

"But Perry wasn't th' chap t' stand this very long; so one mornin, happenin t' be at th' store an meetin Spenceley there, he walks up an says t' him: 'See here, my pale faced an weak eyed consumptive. D'ye know whose toes you've been steppin on?'

"Spenceley looked at him kind of queer, but said he didn't know as he'd hurt anybody.

"'Well,' says Perry, 'it's my toes, and it'll pay you t' climb from under, 'fore something draps on ye. D'ye know who has th' first claim on Miss Hendershott's company? Better find out and take care of yourself.' And Perry started t' go out, swaggering, but th' artist says, real sharp, 'Mr. Roane, I wasn't aware that I was interfering with you. If I am, however, and you don't like it, I'm sorry; but I wish you t' understand that nyther you n'r any other rowdy can bluff me one bit. D'ye understand?'

"Perry turned like he'd ben kicked. It was th' first time we'd ever heerd him sassed and we was looking fer th' artist feller t' get bruised a whole lot. But he wasn't—not any. Perry looked at him a whole minute and seen there was no scare there, so he jest turned and walked out, grumbling and cursing.

"Somebody hid, took a shot at Spenceley a few nights later, but he never kicked none, only come up t' th' store an blowed hisself in fer a forty-four an took shots at a mark ev'ry day—jes' fer sport, he sez; but I kinder s'mised he was 'xpectin Mister Roane an him'd hev trouble in th' near foochur, which was c'rect.

"One day not longer arter this some galoot brung word thet th' 'Paches was out 'thou muzzles, an was chawin ev'rything in sight—an, moreovermore, comin our way, an not fur off, nuther. Nope, we didn't wait none. Me'n an the ole man jes' tuk all th' dust in th' box, hid all th' stock we could, nailed up th' shop—'twas stone—an lit out fer Hendershott's t' tell them. Thar Skerrett leaves me, hirn havin th' fastest little mustang in the kentry, an goes on t' tell folks, ez many ez he kin.

"Wa-al, Hendershott's folks was ready, real sudden, only Old Si, he wouldn't go. Sez he: 'I hain't goin one foot. This here's all I've got, 'cept th' ole lady an Hetty, an I'm goin t' stay right here an hold it. Ef them wimmen hed me an no ranch they'd be wuss off nor nothin.' An thar Ole Si staid, an bundled me 'n th' artist an the women folks off fer Chloride quick. Th' wimmen was in a light waggin, little Jose, a Greaser kid, drivin, an two Greaser girls on th' back seat. Me 'n Spenceley rid the bronco back 'longside.

"'Long in th' arternoon, 'bout 3, we looked over south, an here come a feller on hossback, like a streak o' greased lightnin, throwin dust like th' very dooce—an back o' him, 'bout two 'r three miles, come 'bout a dozen 'r fifteen fellers—near as we c'd guess—also kickin up a big cloud.

"'Twas a good ten mile t' Chloride and we thought we was goners, fer of course we didn't s'pose them last fellers was nothin but Injuns.

"Spenceley set his teeth an looked at his guns, an so did I. Then he rid up t' th' waggin, give Hetty a six shooter, sayin somethin I didn't hear, and told th' boy t' make them mules fly. Then he come back whar I wuz an sez real quiet, 'D'ye think we kin hold 'em off long 'nough, Mr. Harden?' I guessed yes, but great Scott! didn't I wish I was outer that!

"Th' lone chap come racin up. 'Twas Perry Roane, whiter'n a gravestone. He didn't stop, only yelled 'Injuns!' an kep' on going, not stoppin t' say 'Hello!' t' Hetty in th' waggin—jes' kep' on, headed fer Chloride. Th' artist turned t' me in a minute, with his mouth curled up an sez, 'Stampeded!'

"We waited, all ready for them Injuns, but when they come up th' blood sort of come back t' my heart agen, 'cause we c'd see a mile off thet they was white—surveyors an cowboys; some stampeded theirselves, we foun out.

"Things got quiet in a day 'r so, fer it happened thet Uncle Sam hed a lot o' sojers lyin in camp near Chloride, an th' way they kep' them Injuns movin back south was real lively.

"Wal, in a week 'r so up come Mister Roane, jes 'z big ez life, an ez chipper, an goes t' Hendershott's when th' old folks was at th' store and Spenceley out ridin. I reckon him 'n Hetty jes' hed a real lovely row. He hed th' gall t' tell 'er thet he was jes' ridin fer a doctor fer a sick cowboy, an hadn't heard o' no Injuns. Hetty was onto him, though, an talked real rough t' the cuss, I reckon.

"'Bout 5 o'clock little Jose come ridin t' th' store in a hurry, an tole us he hed be'n listenin t' Hetty an Roane talkin, an all of a sudden he heerd a little scream. Nex' thing he seen Roane carryin Hetty outer th' door an puttin 'er in his buggy—she lookin like she'd fainted—an Roane druv off, an Jose lit out fer th' store, meetin Spenceley on th' way, an tellin him.

"Th' ole man an I guessed th' same thing—he'd doped th' girl with chloryform, 'r somethin', an lit out for Mineral Point, whar Eph Hines, a justice of th' peace, lived. I don't know how we come t' think of it; but I hed read o' sech things, an so had Si, I reckon. Lord, but th' ole chap looked tur'ble! He didn't say nothin, but he looked like he was thinkin lots, an it didn't take me'n him long t' git t' Mineral Point, fifteen mile—bad trail too. When we got near th' burg Ole Si loosened up, an ef he didn't cuss fer fifteen minutes I'm a jay.

"We rid up t' Hines', ready t' shoot, an Si kicked th' door open, an there, on th' floor, lyin tied han's an feet, was Perry Roane—an Spenceley, kind of flustrated, but smilin, riz up, an pointin t' Hetty, who was settin in a cheer, lookin kind of pale, sez, 'Gentlemen, let me interjuce my wife.'

"'Twas this way: Roane—he's doin time now—hedn't drugged th' gyurl, only gagged 'er, an, between thar an th' point, hed made 'er promise t' marry him an make no fuss, 'r else he'd kill him an her both—an he meant it. Hines was jest gettin ready fer th' performance when Spenceley rid up. Perry reached for his gun, but Spenceley was too sudden, an caught 'im in th' gun arm, an him an Hines, who tumbled at oncet, tied th' cuss, arter which he ast Hetty t' marry him on th' spot, an she done it.

"No, I don't never play low on no tenderfoot."—R. L. Ketchum in San Francisco Argonaut.

Cutting Wood.

A device has been patented in England by which all kinds of wood can be cut into veneers or boards. The logs are cut into suitable lengths, steamed in a close box through which a current of electricity is sent, and finally placed in a lathe, where they are rotated against a knife. The thin sheets are afterward nipped at the edges, and can be used to make barrels, pails, etc., from one stave. —New York Times.

Autographs Cheaply Valued.

Only eleven shillings! That was all that could be obtained at a recent auction sale of autographs in London for a letter from Adelina Patti, in which she says everybody madly loves her. At the same sale documents signed by Richelieu, the great cardinal, fetched but two shillings each. So greatness fades away, and, as the preacher says, "Vanity, all is vanity!"

A Heavy Load.

Mrs. Fiveroome Flatte (to grocer's boy)—How is it the elevator won't come up? Your bread must be fearfully heavy!

Grocer's Boy—'Tain't the bread that's on it, ma'am; it's the bill for what you owe.—New York Sun.

One Way.

Teacher—Supposing I should cut a pie weighing nine pounds into three parts, keeping one myself and giving one each to you and Freddie, what would you each get?

Dick Hicks—He would get the tail and I the head.—Harper's Bazar.

Fine Crusted Preserves.

We have been shown by Mr. and Mrs. John Graves a unique and interesting relic of the civil war in the shape of a half gallon jar of peach preserves which were made in 1863. The relic was given to Mr. and Mrs. Graves, Oct. 27, 1891, by Mrs. Wash Roberts, of Rocheport, and its history is as follows: In 1861 John Roberts joined the Confederate army along with Ben, Sam and Jack Ray, brothers of Mrs. Roberts. In 1862 this lady and her sister-in-law, Mrs. John Roberts, were together putting up preserves, jellies, etc. They filled some jars which they agreed not to open until their brothers and husbands should return safe from the war.

It turned out that John Roberts was killed, and as they did not all come back, the ladies did not open their preserves. Time rolled on. Mrs. John Roberts moved to California, where she married again and became the mother of several children and is now dead. Recently Mrs. Wash Roberts concluded she would send some of these preserves to these children, and also to give some to her friends, the Graveses. The preserves are in first class condition, of excellent flavor, and would no doubt keep another quarter of a century. Wash Roberts has been for many years a popular citizen of Rocheport, while Jack Ray is somewhere in the state of Washington.—Fayette (Mo.) Banner.

Savages Slaughtering Deer.

Game Warden Taylor came in recently from the lower country, where he has been kept busy driving the Indians out of that section. Mr. Taylor reports that the Utes have been playing sad havoc with the game, slaughtering wherever they could. He was very indignant over it, and from his version of the matter he has good reason to be. He states that from the Iron springs divide to Yellow creek it is impossible to travel a hundred yards without finding the bodies of deer lying around, and in most cases nothing but the hides and brains have been taken, the brains being used by the Indians in the process of tanning. On Blue mountain and in the Lilly park sections the rotting carcasses can be seen, while on Snake river they are so thick as to absolutely poison the air.

Warden Taylor estimates that since the deer began to travel down the Utes have killed between 5,000 and 6,000 of them, and what makes matters worse the major portion of them are does and fawns, the bucks always remaining on the upper country till later in the fall.—Denver Sun.

The Highest Railway in Europe.

The opening of a new Alpine railway—the Brienzer Rothhornbahn—is announced. It is the highest railway in the Alps and commands magnificent views. It is 2,351 meters (7,836 feet) high at the summit level, and ascends 1,682 meters (5,600 feet), or sixty-seven meters (223 feet) higher than the Pilatus railway. The journey occupies an hour and a half. The gauge is 0.8 meter. The line is a pure rack and pinion railway on the Abt system, and is similar in construction to the Monte Generoso railway.

The steepest gradient is one in four—that is, less than the maximum Pilatus ascent. The railway has been built in a remarkably short space of time: it was begun so recently as the 1st of October, 1890. No fewer than ten tunnels were bored; numerous streamlets were bridged and heavy stone dams had to be erected.—Iron.

Warning Against Antipyrine.

Let me say something about the indiscriminate use of antipyrine. I think it is villainous. Its use should be restricted like laudanum and morphine, and used only upon a physician's prescription. People use it carelessly, not knowing that it is a heart depressant and cumulative in its action. Many persons come to me and say that they have been using ten grains every three or four hours, and without any idea of the harm it does. I came across two or three deaths last year directly due to its use. Too much cannot be said about the danger from its indiscriminate use.—Interview in Philadelphia Press.

Mamma's Diaries.

Little Girl—The teacher says I must get a diary, and write in it all I do every day. Will you buy me one, mamma?

Mamma—There are plenty of them up stairs in the lower bureau drawer—fifteen or twenty, I think.

Little Girl—But isn't those ones written in?

Mamma—Only the first pages of each.—Good News.

As Brave as a Stump Orator.

A rooster was put on the block at Hanford the other day and his head was cut off, but when the plucker reached for him the ambitious fowl had walked off. The head was completely severed save a small portion of the base of the skull, but the bird could still hear and feel and even cry out. He lived for sixteen hours in that condition.—San Francisco Call.

A New Precious Stone.

A hitherto unknown stone has been found in the mining district of Candelaria, in Nevada. It is of a dark green color and takes on a very high polish, and is classed by the state geologist as "sariscite." Several beautiful ornaments have been produced from it, but so far it has not been found in any considerable quantity.—Retail Jeweler.

Twins Nine Times Without a Skip.

Mr. John Miscall, who is one of the head bakers in James Reed & Sons bakery, Norfolk, Va., has been made the proud possessor of the ninth consecutive pair of healthy and strong twins, a boy and a girl. Mrs. Miscall has never given birth to one child at a time.—Cor. Baltimore American.

Thirteen Is Lucky.

In Chicago a horse car, a red hot stove and thirteen passengers were struck by an engine. The car was reduced to kindling wood and took fire, but not a passenger was killed. And yet people will go right on insisting that thirteen is an unlucky number.—Indianapolis News.

TUESDAY, FEB. 2nd.

The further hearing in the matter of the viewers report on the proposed change in the Gualala river and Stewart's Point road was continued to be taken up at the pleasure of the Board,

Bids on the proposed bridge across the Gualala were received from the following firms: Hiatt & Halliday, $19,400; Healey Tibbett & Co., $22,000; Pacific Bridge Co., $19,470; King Iron Bridge Co. $16,000, $15,000, $18,800.; Cotton Bros. & Co., plan, 1, $14,900; plan, 2, $14,380; Darby Laydon & Co., $12,561; Thompson Bridge Co., $15,491; Doe Hunt & Co., $11,600; $13,900; $9,000, $11,200; California Bridge Co., $21,970; San Francisco Bridge Co., $18,000; $17,000, $11,700, $11,200; H. A. Richardson, $15,317, $17,550, $19.300; B. McMahon, $12,500; J. O. Burkhalter, $16,820, $18,500.

Three bids for maps were received but not opened.

The Board adjourned without taking any action on the Gualala bridge bids.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 3rd.

Upon reconvening the Board resumed the consideration of the bids for the proposed Gualala bridge.

At 10:30 o'clock, on motion of Mr. Cady, the Board went into executive session.

At 3 o'clock the Board was called to order in open session, and on motion of Supervisor Smith all bids for the building of a bridge across the Gualala were rejected.

A motion was then passed instructing the Clerk to readvertise for bids to be received up to 11 A. M. February 23rd,

The opening of bids for the making of maps having been temporarily postpond, the matter was duly called up and three bids having been received, the same were ordered opened and read. The bid of J. W. Ragsdale was $10,000; that of J. C. Henkenius, $8,875. W. A. Pierce and T. J. Dewoody, $4,835.

Messrs Pierce and Dewoody, their bids being so much lower than the others, were called up for explanation as to their understanding of the specifications.

Mr. Pierce said he had carefully examined the specifications and had also examined the Santa Clara map spoken of before and was fully prepared to make a map in strict accordance with the specifications and like the Santa Clara map. He did not expect to survey the whole county and did not think such necessity existed.

Mr. Ragsdale, when called upon, said that he was not bidding on such a map as Messrs. Pierce and Dewoody could compile from the records. He would advise the Board, however, to close with the bid if the gentlemen proposed to furnish such a map as he was bidding on. He could get up a map from the records for $2.500.

Mr. Cady informed Messrs. Pierce and Dewoody that there were about 900,000 acres of land in the county and that 60,000 acres were escaping assessment, and the man who made the map is expected to find out where that land is. It will also be necessary to survey a large portion of the county. It would be impossible to plat the town and the subdivisions could not be shown without surveying, and the same would be true of the county roads, school districts, boundaries, etc.

Chairman Mead was also of opinion that it would be necessary to do a great deal of surveying which Messrs. Pierce and Dewoody did not expect.

There was some further discussion quite informal and the matter was postponed to be taken up at the pleasure of the Board.

The Board adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock Thursday morning.

The Commander In-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, Major George S. Merrill. Few remedies are better known in this vicinity than Sulphur Bitters; their sale has been very general throughout this section, and the number of reliable and well-attested cases of beneficial results and recovery by their use, is large and beyond dispute.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and muscous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for testimonials.

Scrofula

is more especially than any other a hereditary disease, and for this simple reason: Arising from impure and insufficient blood, the disease locates itself in the lymphatics, which are composed of white tissues; there is a period of fœtal life when the whole body consists of white tissues, and therefore the unborn child is especially susceptible to this dreadful disease. But there is a potent remedy for scrofula, whether hereditary or acquired. It is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which expels every trace of the disease and gives to the blood the quality and color of health. MRS. GRAHAM'S

CUCUMBER and ELDER FLOWER CREAM.

Is not a cosmetic in the sense in which that term is popularly used, but permanently beautifies. It creates a soft, smooth, clear, velvety skin, and by daily use gradually makes the complexion several shades whiter. It is a constant protection from the effects of sun and wind, and prevents sun burns and freckles, and blackheads will not come while you use it. It changes the face for better than soap and water, nourishes and builds up the skin tissues and thus prevents the formation of wrinkles. It gives the freshness, clearness and smoothness of the skin that you had when a little girl. Every lady, young or old ought to use it, as it gives a more youthful appearance to any lady, and that permanently. It contains no acid, powder or alkali and is as harmless as dew and as nourishing to the skin as dew is to the flower. Price $1.00, at all druggists and hair-dressers, or at Mrs. Gervaise Graham's establishment, 105 Post street San Francisco, where she treates ladies for all blemishes of the face and figure. Jacob P. Leese, who died in San Francisco on the first of this month at the ripe old age of 82 years, was at one time a resident and a leading citizen of Sonoma. He was a member of the Council of the former City of Sonoma in 1850 and in 1851 and the grantee from the Mexican Government of the Huichica Rancho near this place. There is but one of the pioneers left in Sonoma who knew the deceased intimately, that gentleman being Louis Adler, who has resided here for 48 years.

THAT MAP BUSINESS.

Are the Tax-Payers Interests Being Considered in the Matter?

As will be seen by Wednesday's proceedings of the Board of Supervisors of this county, published elsewhere in these columns, that august body are evidently inclined to give the making of a map of Sonoma county to their first love, J. W. Ragsdale of Santa Rosa, who wants $10,000 for the job.

There are three bids in for the work, to-wit: J. W. Ragsdale, $10,000; J. C. Henkenius, $8,875; Pierce & Dewoody, $4,835.

Notwithstanding the bid of the latter, as compared with that of the other bidders, will save the taxpayers several thousand dollars, the Supervisors, led by Mr. Cady, have postponed the matter of awarding the bid, and that, too, in face of the fact that Messrs. Pierce & Dewoody have put up the sum of $483 50, which will be forfeited to the county in case they fail to enter into and carry out the terms of the contract strictly to the letter. That being so, the Supervisors invite suspicion by endeavoring to frighten the lowest bidders out of the field of competition by expatiating on the vastness of the work and telling them, as Mr. Cady did, that "there were about 900,000 acres of land in the county and that 60,000 acres were escaping assessment, and that the man who made the map is expected to find out where that land is."

Granting this to be so, surely the Supervisors have no right to assume that the lowest bidders are not capable of understanding their own business and just what is required of them. The plans and specifications which governed their bid ought to be as plain to them as to any individual member of the Board, and it is just as reasonable to suppose that Pierce & Dewoody will follow the specifications, even to locating those offending 60,000 acres, as conscientiously as would either of the other bidders. But why discuss this map business further. Suffice it to say, if the lower bids are to be thrust aside for the highest well may the public exclaim with Sambo: "You owdacious niggar, git out dat woodpile."

A DEADLY ASSAULT.

J. G. Stout Held to Answer Before the Superior Court.

The examination of J. G. Stout, charged with assaulting W. B. Pless with a heavy hose coupling, took place before Judge Cheney last Saturday. The defense was represented by Attorney Metcalf of Oakland and the prosecution by Lawyer Harrison of this place and Deputy District Attorney Leppo of Santa Rosa.

The testimony went to show that Stout had been unfriendly towards Pless for a long time. That they met in Clewe & Co's store by mere accident, both having business in that place. That Mr. Pless addressed his assailant and asked him if it was true that he had sent him word that he could not have that flood gate unless he paid $10 for the recovery of the same. [The flood gate in question being one that belonged to Mr. Pless, which had been carried down Sonoma Creek during a freshet and which had been secured by defendant.] Stout replied that he had so stated. Mr. Pless then turned and addressing Mr Clewe remarked in a bitter and sarcastic manner that that was the kind of a neighbor he had, at the same time pointing to Stout. The words were no sooner out of his mouth than Stout hastily stepped up in front of Mr. Pless, whose back had been turned toward him and dealt him two savage blows on the head with a hose coupling. Mr. Pless was completely dazed by the blows, one of which made an ugly wound on the left side of the head and would undoubtedly have fractured the skull had it not been for a heavy piece of felt inside the leather lining of the hat. This to a great extent broke the force of the blow.

Evidence went to show that Mr. Pless, who is a medium sized man and a dwarf alongside his herculean assailant, was unarmed and that he did not use any violent language to Stout until after he had been assaulted.

The Judge, after hearing all evidense in the case and argument of counsel, held Stout in the sum of $500 to appear before the Superior Court on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Bail was immediately furnished by the defendant.

THE CITY TRUSTEES.

Their Meeting Characterised by Big Talk and Little Action.

The City Trustees met in regular monthly session last Wednesday and as usual of late the meeting resulted in all taik and mighty little action. Nothing was done toward lighting the town or cultivating the Plaza, or building bridges where needed, and lo! not even a lifting jack could be found in town to hoist the engine of the volunteer firemen, although enough talk was indulged in to have put to shame the members of a female sewing circle or a "high coffee party" of the None-Such's of Sonoma.

The fact of the matter is the City Trustees of Sonoma are bucking against one another worse than Texas steers in fly time, with the result that needed public improvements are left to go by the board, much to the disgust of many sufferers in this community.

At the meeting Wednesday night, President Poppe beamed down through his gold-bowed spectacles on his brother members of the Board, Messrs. Wegner, Weyl and Litzius. With a bang of the gavel, he called the meeting to order and the members got down to business like a balky team of mustang horses.

After the minutes of the previous meeting had been read and approved, Trustee Wegner of the Street Committee reported on the bad condition of the sidewalk in front of Mrs. Jas. Martin's residence on Broadway. He recommended that a few loads of gravel be used at the city's expense in repairing the same. The proposition was squelched by Trustee Weyl, who maintained, and very properly, too, that property-owners were compelled to repair their own sidewalks.

Trustee Weyl, Chairman of the Fire and Water Committee, reported that a lifting jack strong enough to hoist the fire engine could not be found in town, and the matter of the lifting jack was laid over.

The Finance Committee reported favorably on Clerk Breitenbach's financial statement for the six months ending December 31st, and the same was received and placed on file.

In the matter of constructing a wooden bridge across the stream which saws Second street East in two near the residences of F. Clewe and F. D Duhring, the clerk reported that he had been assured by practical bridge builders that the cost would be in the neighborhood of $375. The report was received, but no further action was taken in the matter, which will come up at the next meeting.

The bill of J. B. Small, amounting to $104.17, for curbing First-street East south of Napa street, created considerable discussion. It was moved by Trustee Wegner and seconded by Trustee Litzius that the bill be paid. Trustee Weyl voted against the motion when put to a vote and the matter went over until the next meeting.

The application of Mrs. Catherine Poppe for a franchise to lay water pipes from her artesian well in the northern part of town to her store on the east side of the Plaza was received and filed.

On motion of Trustee Wegner, which received a second from Trustee Litzius, it was ordered that the north side of Napa street be curbed from Second-street East to the creek which flows through V. Bulotti's property. So ordered.

Trustee Weyl moved that the City Clerk give ten days notice that bids will be received for the construction of a plank curbing on the north side of Napa steet and on the west side of First street East and the north side of Patton streets. It was so ordered.

A communication from Father Brennan in regard to lighting the town was received but did not get the attention it deserved.

Trustee Litzius moved that the Street Committee be instructed to examine into the necessity of a sidewalk on the East side of First street West, north of Spain street, and report at the next meeting. So ordered.

Following bills were allowed and ordered paid:

John Reve, hauling gravel	$ 52 50
J. M. Cheney, rent	5 00
John Kearney, grading	20 00
Lee Bulotti, street work	21 50
F. Duhring, curbing	3 97
G. W. Sparks, salary and services	37 50
F. Breitenbach, salary three months	28 00
J. B. Small, carpenter work	8 34
H. H. Granice, printing	5 50
Sonoma Firemen for Jas. McMackin	5 00
Total	$183 93

The Board then adjourned.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to clense the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

SNYDER VS CLARK.

The Plaintiff Loses Her Case--Judgment for Defendant.

The civil suit brought by Mrs. Rachel J. Snyder against Fred. L. Clark, administrator of the estate of O. W. Craig, deceased, to recover the sum of $1005 and a year and a half's interest on the above sum, alleged to be due in connection with a very complicated transaction in which Mrs. Snyder, Perry Sears, O. W. Craig and I. G. Wickersham were involved, was decided last Monday by Judge Crawford in favor of Fred L. Clark, defendant. The Judge held that Mrs. Snyder had already received the amount out of the proceeds of the foreclosure sale of Perry Sears' farm.

Wm. E. McConnell of Santa Rosa, was counsel for Clark and Lippett & Lippett of Petaluma represented the plaintiff. Counsel for Mrs. Snyder state that they will take an appeal to the Supreme Court.

FOR PURE FOOD.

The San Francisco Board of Health Notify Consumers which is the Best Baking Powder.

San Francisco Chronicle.

The Board of Health can engage in no more laudable occupation than the examination of our food supply and the instruction of the public as to those articles it finds to be pure and wholesome, and which, therefore, consumers should use.

There are quantities of baking powders in the market to use which is certain detriment to the health of the consumer. They are made from alum, or improperly compounded from other chemicals, so that they leave a strong alkaline residuum in the food. Many of these powders, having proved unsalable in the East, have been collected by their manufacturers from the dealers with whom they were left on commision, and shipped to the Pacific Coast. In the effort to gain a foot-hold in this market unscrupulous manufacturers of these cheaply made, low grade baking powders have indulged in extravagant statements both with reference to their own and other brands, claiming the most im probable endorsements for theirs and defaming the brands best known and longest used upon the Pacific Coast. This information from this high authority is most opportune.

The strength in leavening gas indicates both the economical value and the purity of a baking powder. The tests made by Messrs. Thos. Price & Son, the well-known analytical chemists of San Francisco, show the Royal to contain 191 cubic inches of leavening gas per ounce of powder, which was 51 inches more than the next highest in strength. This shows the Royal about 30 per cent. stronger than the best of the other powders and its use that much more economical.

The opinion of the Board of Health is as follows:

We, the members of the Board of Health of the City and County of San Francisco, cordially approve and recommend the Royal Baking Powder. It is absolutely pure and healthful, composed of the best ingredients, of the highest strength and character.

In our judgment, it is impossible to make a purer or stronger baking powder than the Royal.

AN OVERTURNED BUGGY AND A KICKING HORSE.

T. S. Glaister's and I. DeTurk's Narrow Escape.

On Thursday of last week while I. DeTurk of Santa Rosa and T. S. Glaister of this place were driving through the vineyard of Rhinefarm, the horse, a spirited animal belonging to Mr. DeTurk, became frightened at a number of wine casks lying alongside the road and commenced to rear and plunge, and finally bolted off the road into the vineyard. The vehicle, a light buggy, was overturned, both occupants falling underneath. The horse then commenced kicking. The gentlemen were unable to extricate themselves from their perilous position, and every time the animal kicked he barely missed striking the prostrate men. Finally an employee of Mr. Gundlach's, who had fortunately witnessed the accident, came to the rescue, and seizing the horse by the bit succeeded in quieting him, after which he assisted Mr. DeTurk and Mr. Glaister from beneath the overturned buggy, much to their relief as they were in momentary danger of being struck by the horse's flying heels and having the life kicked out of them. As it was, both escaped with slight bruises from coming in contact with the ground when fired out of the overturning buggy.

The name of the young man who so timely came to the relief of Messrs DeTurk and Glaister is William Meyer.

THE DONAHUE LINE.

Henry Villard, the Railroad Magnate, Said to be Figuring on Buying the Property.

It is a pretty well established fact that sooner of later the Donahue railway must be sold to pay the bequests of the late Mervyn Donahue. The Examiner says that a good many people seem to think that the Southern Pacific will eventually buy it, but Mr. McGlynn does not profess to know anything about the matter, nor will he venture a guess as to who may buy it and to what price it may and ought to bring. The Huntington syndicate says that the purchase of the road has not been suggested to it, nor has the subject been given any consideration. The fact, however, that the road occupied territory that they have recently penetrated at one point, and it is a piece of property that is more than paying expenses, notwithstanding its bonded debt of $4,000,0000, leads many to persist in the notion that it will be the purchaser sooner or later.

One story, however, that is going the rounds of railroad circles, both here and at the East, is to the effect that the Seligman Banking Company of New York, which, with another firm of that city, floated the big blanket mortgage on the road, have been requested by some wealthy Eastern people to use their influence in delaying a sale until such time as they can make arrangements to make a bid for the property.

The statement is made by the people at Fourth and Townsend streets that Henry Villard, who wields influence in the Northern Pacific Company by reason of his representing its German bondholders, has been figuring on a scheme by which he can see his way clear to buy the Donahue line, extend it up along the coast through Eureka, the Coos bay district of Oregon and finally into Portland, the present terminus of the Northern Pacific, thereby securing to the latter an entrance by rail into San Francisco through a region of country in both Oregon and California that can be made productive in lumber and other articles of shipment if only given railroad development.

DIMPLED DARLINGS.

Dimpled darlings gather 'round me,
With your faces bright and fair;
With your eyes so clear and sunny,
And your curls of golden hair.

Let me hear your merry voices,
As you laugh and shout with glee;
Of all music that doth cheer us,
This the sweetest is to me.

Let me clasp you to my bosom,
Let me kiss your rosy lips;
And feel upon my weary brow,
The soft touch of your finger tips.

Scattering sunshine all around you,
Brighten for us life's dark days;
And illume its many shadows,
With your sweet and winsome ways.

O! fair darlings! gather closely,
'Round my arm-chair fondly cling;
Welcome are you as sweet song birds,
Flitting 'round on airy wing.

Would that I could shield you ever,
From all winds that rudely blow:
From the storms that sometimes gather,
And life's chilling frost and snow.

But my darlings! One above us,
Our dear Father and our King;
He will guard and guide you ever,
Oh! sweet rose-buds of life's spring.

A VERY COMMON WANT

"Out of sorts," "distrait," "the blues," these are familiar appellatives for uncomfortable, undefinable sensations, accompained with lassitude, nervousness, indigestion. Poverty of the blood, to remedy which an effective stomachic persistently used is the paramount needed, is conclusive evidence that the system is unsufficently nourished because—and for no other cause where organic disease does not exist—the food is not assimilated. Reinforce the flagging energies of the stomach, reform an irregular condition of the bowels, keep up a healthful secretion of the bile with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. For over thirty years this popular medicine has supplied the common want of the nervous invalid, the dyspeptic and of persons deficient in vitality, an efficient tonic. To its power of imparting strength is attributable its efficacy as a preventative of malaria and la grippe. Thoroughly effective is it too for rheumatism, kidney complaint and neuralgia.

A Little Girl's Experience in a Lighthouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Trescott are keepers of the Gov Lighthouse at Sand Beach, Mich. and are blessed with a daughter, four years old Last April she was taken down with Measles, followed with a dreadful Cough and turning into a fever. Doctors at home and at Detroit treated her, but in vain, she grew worse rapidly, until she was a mere "handful of bones." Then she tried Dr. King's New Discovery and after the use of two and a half bottles, was completely cured. They say Dr King's New Discovery is worth its weight in gold, yet you may get a trial bottle free at Ed. Wegner's Drugstore.

Began Studying on the Farm.

Dr. C. C. Abbott, the well known archæologist, began the study in which he made his reputation when he was a farmer near Trenton. His farm occupied a knoll overlooking the wide low lands along the Delaware, where the Delaware Indians and their predecessors undoubtedly resorted in large numbers. From the river banks and from the plowed fields he gathered some 30,000 relics in clay, bone and stone, the product of the aborigines who once hunted, fished, camped and manufactured their implements and utensils there.

The larger part of his collections are in the Peabody museum, at Cambridge. His exhibits there number 27,000 pieces. Dr. Abbott has been appointed curator of the American Museum of Archæology connected with the University of Pennsylvania, and is now devoting his energy to this new museum, which already contains about 25,000 specimens. —New York Sun.

Calculating Machines.

"Come and let the machine tell your age," said one young girl to another as they waited for a train at the station.

"So you believe that, do you?" was the response. "I think you wouldn't if you took a second thought. You see there are springs and things in press, and you get certain results. It is a sort of calculating machine, and in reality you tell your own age. If you want any other date you can get it quite as easily by starting from any given day. If you are interested in reckoning machines, well and good, but don't be deluded into the belief that such a bit of mechanism has reasoning or other faculties and could tell you anything you didn't know yourself"—New York Ledger.

The Changing Styles.

Ethel—Don't you know, dear, that that last year's bonnet of yours is very unfashionable this year? The fashions change so.

Maud—Yes, and it is so nice for you that they do change. The same fashions come back every three or four years, and now your bonnet is in again.—Harper's Bazar.

Rentals Lions Galore.

On the last trip of L. H. Gaskill into the region about San Francisquito bay, on the gulf coast, he saw lions and lynxes and wildcats enough to stock a big menagerie. In one canyon, where his party was encamped, the burros wandered off and Mr. Gaskill started to find them. When about half a mile from the camp he heard them coming tearing down ahead of him as if the Old Nick himself was after them, and they dashed on down toward camp. He knew that some wild beast had frightened them, and although unarmed he went on in the hope of getting a glimpse.

When he had gone a hundred yards further and had climbed on to a large table rock he was astounded to see four full grown mountain lions not more than sixty feet ahead of him, and they seemed to have seen him first and were looking straight at him. Mr. Gaskill remembers distinctly that his hair stood on end, if ever a man's did, but he doesn't remember all the minute details of his return to camp—only that he got there muy pronto. He and his partner took rifles and went after the lions, but they had gone. That night the burros were tied unusually secure, but their occasional snorts and efforts to break away indicated that the wild animals were after meat. A blazing fire kept them at a distance.

Mr. Gaskill states that the Mexicans and Indians living on that part of the peninsula are in mortal dread of meeting a lion, as the beasts are in a constantly famished condition, and have been known to follow men for hours, awaiting a favorable opportunity to pounce upon them.—Lower Californian.

Innocents Abroad.

Two small children—one a boy and the other a girl—were permitted to accompany their mother on a shopping tour in the week before Christmas. They espied a life size figure of Santa Claus in one of the large retail marts in Sixth avenue. Breaking away from parental guidance, they ran joyfully up to the figure, exclaiming, "Oh, Mr. Santa Claus!" "Mr. Santa Claus!" with such vehemence that the attention of at least a dozen persons was attracted to them. With all of the sincerity and enthusiasm that true faith imparts those little ones stood before the grizzled and toy laden image and told what they wanted "Dear Mr. Santa Claus" to bring them for Christmas. The little boy wanted a wagon with horses that could trot, and the girl wanted a dolly that could open and shut its eyes and talk. So firm was their belief in the actual presence of Santa Claus that the little folks imagined that they could see a twinkle in his eye and a smile of assent to their petitions on his lips. It was an incident that touched the adult observers, one of whom, a white haired old gentleman, murmured, "'Tis a pity that a child's belief in Santa Claus should ever be shaken."—New York Times.

Old Memories Recalled.

After the adjournment of the United States court at Danville, Va., recently, there was a little scene which was not on the docket. A one armed old Confederate had been found guilty of illegal distilling and was sentenced to one month's imprisonment and a fine of $100. Judge John Paul, who was also an old Confederate, ordered the marshal to bring Garrett Morrison, the one armed veteran, into the courtroom. Presently the judge and prisoner stood face to face. As he touched the empty sleeve tears came into the eyes of the judge, who said: "Come back here tomorrow and I will consider your case. We old boys are getting scarce, and you cannot go to jail.—Cor. Richmond Times.

When Does the Nineteenth Century End?

I have been pretty thoroughly convinced for years that not one person in five knows when this century will close, but I was much surprised to find the statement that but about eight years of this century remain. This would make 1899 the last year of this decade and century. The matter is important enough to correct, and is very easily made clear. The First century closed with the last day of the year 100; the Second with the last day of the year 200, and the Nineteenth century will end with the last day of the year 1900, which is nine years from New Year Day, 1892.—J. Ogden Kern in New York Sun.

A Steam Sleigh.

A Truckee (Cal.) man has in the course of construction a steam sleigh which will, he claims, when perfected, traverse snow covered fields and mountains with a speed scarcely less than that of a railroad train. It is his intention to utilize the contrivance for the hauling of all classes of freight, sawlogs and anything else that requires cheap transportation.—Exchange.

While a workman was repairing an outbuilding in Winchester, Ind., a few days ago, he found under one of the sills an old tin can containing about $1,600 in gold coin, mostly in $2.50 and five dollar pieces. No one knows to whom the treasure belonged.

The Oakland board of education having decreed that married teachers must go, the question the women are asking each other is, since no distinction was made, what will be the effect of the resolution where the teachers happen to be men?

The great treasury vault at Washington covers more than a quarter of an acre and is twelve feet deep. Recently there was $90,000,000 in silver stored there, an amount that weighed 4,000 tons and would load 175 freight cars.

The fishing industry at Portland, Or., and vicinity is rapidly increasing. The amount of mackerel packed in Portland alone last season was 17,000 barrels, or more than 10,000 barrels in excess of the season before.
